Admiral B.R. Inman
Deputy Director
Central Intelligence Agency
Washington, D.C. 20505

Dear Admiral Inman:

STAT

As the third program for Senior Executive Fellows draws to a close, I'm writing to thank you again for your role in facilitating participation in the Program. [redacted] is an outstanding individual and a manager of high promise. He has been a valued member of the group and has been an excellent representative of the Agency.

STAT

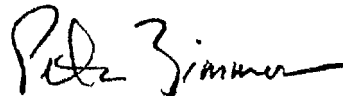

As you know, we've had CIA participation in each of the first three SEF Programs, as well as Agency participation in our mid-career program in Public Administration and in our executive program in National and International Security. I know that CIA participants make a substantial contribution to the success of all these programs and hope that the programs, in turn, contribute to the development of individual participants as well as to broader Agency goals.

We're now recruiting participants for the fourth class for Senior Executive Fellows, which gets underway January 30, 1982. I hope we can look forward to continuing CIA participation in the Program and that future participants will be the equal of folks like [redacted]. We're pleased to have had him in the Program.

STAT

Again, thanks for your support and interest in the School and its programs and I look forward to working with you and your staff in the coming months.

Sincerely,

Peter Zimmerman
